TUTOR TRAINING PROGRAMME (III BATCH)

Specific learning disability is the most misconceived concept till date. In spite of extensive research, parents and teachers are unable to understand the condition. Helikx open school Learning centre started in the year 2000 have educated and taught closely 750 children in a regular classroom environment. We at the centre follow several instructional methods like Orton Gillingham approach and phonics based instruction. This gave us a comprehensive experience to design online programmes to help others to understand these children and to lead their life in a positive way. Nice to have you join our program to reach out to more children.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

In this intensive tutor training program on specific learning disability you will learn about who children are? Why they struggle to understand? Root cause behind their struggles and what troubles them and how to help them.

As an educator or any other instructor having the opportunity to touch an individual's life, it's important we become informed of and understand all the aspect of a child's growth and development.

Participants will get to critically analyse the current research on Specific Learning Disability based on oval chart and find extensive potential strategies to help struggling learners. Each part of this program is carefully designed to deliver an intensive yet simple way to understand the above

Helikx Open School and Learning Centre traces its origin to the Helikx Trust, the activities of ours spring around to impart academic skills with vocational guidance to students, in particular to those children with specific learning disabilities.

It is the first open school where the teaching and evaluation methods are based on the theory of "Multiple Intelligences", as propounded by Howard Gardner. Therefore, teaching and learning methods/strategies adopted here are highly student specific, allowing for flexibility in nurturing the creativity of each of the students.

We are accredited with NIOS-NATIONAL INSTITUTE OF OPEN SCHOOLING an institution with a DIFFERENCE. It is an autonomous organization under MHRD (Ministry of Human Resource development), Government of India. It is the largest open schooling system in the world and an examination board of government of India at par with CBSE/CISCE. With a motto to "Reach out and reach all" and provides an opportunity for "What to learn, When to learn, Where to learn and How to learn". For secondary education course we are accredited with NIOS (SAIED) since 2007. AI code number--450096 and for primary level A,B and C (equivalent to 3,5, and 8th Std of regular schooling. OBE Code number - OB1904712).

We follow samacheer kalvi of Tamil Nadu and students appear as private candidates for 10th Std board Exams.

In order to bring awareness about the activities of Helikx, a news letter namely BRIDGE THE GAP has been started to be circulated to various schools through mail to create awareness on Specific Learning Disabilities and about remedial strategies at our school.

Helikx created the assessment tools for our Government schools to identify children with Specific Learning Disabilities and to take the remedial measures in the right direction. the school social workers were trained by the school and recruited to various schools.
